This time our Session for Success looks at ways you can improve your interview skills, for when you have a telephone or online interview, such as via Zoom.

During these times, when we're relying much more on using technology in our daily lives, more employers are using phone and video for interviews, rather than face-to-face. So you need to be prepared!

Join this session with Make Happen and Ask, who will focus on how:

- you can improve your general interview skills
- be prepared for different types of interview
- apply your skills telephone or online interviews
